

Quantity Limits for Individual and Group Products

Note that the Latitude and Community Flex products have different quantity limits in place than what are listed below. Click on a product name above to view these medication lists. For all other products, please review the information below.

American Community's prescription drug plans include quantity limits on certain medications. Quantity limits are based on recommendations from the manufacturers and the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) as well as generally accepted medical practices for dosing. These limits help ensure that you receive the proper dose and recommended duration of therapy for your condition, while minimizing potential for adverse events and inappropriate therapy.
